Elvis and the USS Arizona

CEO MESSAGE A Flower Girl's Special Story

Mary Daubert was only 10 years old when her life changed forever.

It happened in 1961 at St. Catherine School in Kapa'a, Kaua'i. Mary and her father were there to pick up her older sister from choir practice. A Hollywood casting director was also there that day searching for extras to appear in a major movie production happening on Kaua'i.

"I was wearing an orchid colored dress with a purple orchid in my ear," recalls Daubert of that day 60 years ago. "I ran past the casting director and I guess I caught his attention. He asked my sister to bring me to the set at Coco Palms Hotel tomorrow."

Everyone on Kaua'i knew that movie was Blue Hawaii, starring Elvis Presley and Joan Blackman. Daubert had "a sense of who Elvis was" but did not understand what the fuss was about.

"The next day we went to Coco Palms and the casting director asked me if I wanted to be a flower girl in a wedding scene," says Daubert. "I said yes! Next thing I know, I'm standing next to Elvis in the movie's iconic wedding scene."

Blue Hawaii was the first major film that featured Kaua'i as itself. It was Elvis' eighth movie and by far his most successful. Its soundtrack spent 79 weeks on Billboard's pop album chart, including 20 weeks in the No. 1 spot.

"My friends at school said, 'Wow, you're in Elvis' movie!' I was kind of like a star," chuckles Daubert, who retired four years ago from the County after serving many years as its public information director. "Every morning Elvis would greet the cast from a distance, 'Hello there!' He was a charismatic man. It's no wonder he's still loved today."

Hollywood has filmed more than 60 major movies and TV shows on Kaua'i, including Raiders of the Lost Ark, Jurassic Park, The Thorn Birds, Six Days, Seven Nights, and Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tide, but none was more important to Kaua'i than Blue Hawaii. It changed the Garden Island forever ... along with a little flower girl from Kapa'a.

Elvis and the USS Arizona

Tuesday, December 7 at 8:00 pm

When filming on his movie King Creole was postponed in 1957, Elvis Presley suddenly had some free time. Inspired by an outpouring of Island holiday greetings received the year before, Elvis made his first visit to the Territory of Hawai'i on a whim, arriving via ship on November 9, and performing two shows the next day. From then on, his life and career would continue to be intertwined with the Islands. One little-known part of his legacy is explored in Elvis and the USS Arizona.

Just before dawn on January 8, 1935, the man who came to be known as the King of Rock 'n' Roll was born in Tupelo, Mississippi. Less than seven years later, on a much different kind of morning 4,200 miles west of Tupelo, the United States was pulled into World War II with the attack on Pearl Harbor, leaving almost 2.400 Americans dead. Nearly half of those casualties were on the sunken battleship USS Arizona, many of them permanently entombed in the wreck. The watery grave remained unmarked for the next eight years until Adm. Arthur William Radford, the man from whom Radford High School gets its name, ordered a platform and flagpole erected over the ship. In 1958, approval was given to raise private funds for a larger, permanent monument. That same year, Elvis Presley, then the biggest name in music, was drafted into the U.S. Army, where he would serve for two years.

Construction of the new memorial began in 1960, but fundraising efforts soon stalled, with only half of the $500,000 cost raised. George Chaplin, editor of the Honolulu Advertiser at the time and a World War II veteran, sent a letter to daily newspapers across the country, asking for editorial support. The Los Angeles Examiner obliged, and on December 7, 1960, it printed a call to action. Among those who read the Examiner editorial was Elvis Presley's manager, Colonel Tom Parker, who promptly reached out to Chaplin.

On the afternoon of March 25, 1961, Elvis returned to Hawai'i – this time, via airplane. Jetlagged and swarmed by 3,000 waiting fans, and adorned with more lei than a high school graduate, he was set to begin shooting another movie, Blue Hawaii. But that evening, the 26-year-old King of Rock 'n' Roll would first jumpstart the efforts to bring the USS Arizona Memorial to reality.

keiki club

Thank you for joining us at this year's Keiki Club Trunk o' Treat drive-thru. We had an amazing turn out! You could truly feel the excitement and joy the children had visiting each trunk experience. Although the pandemic and government mandates required us to pivot from what was originally planned as an in-person event, we are so grateful to our keiki club parents and families for their patience and support.

We look forward to many more special events like these for our keiki club 'ohana in the near future. On behalf of everyone at PBS Hawai'i, mahalo nui loa!

Year End Giving - Two Easy Options

During this season of giving, we're depending on loyal friends like you. Your financial support will help PBS Hawai'i stand strong in our commitment to civil discourse and quality programming in arts, culture and education.

Here are some tax advantaged ways you can make a vital contribution to PBS Hawai'i:

Appreciated Securities

Transferring appreciated stocks, bonds or mutual funds to PBS Hawai'i is a great way to make a charitable gift and can benefit you in two ways. When you donate publicly traded investments that have been held for more than a year you may avoid capital gains taxes. Plus, you can take the full fair market value of the gift on the date it is transferred as a charitable deduction.

IRA Charitable Rollover

If you are 70 ½ years old or older, you can give up to $100,000 from your IRA directly to PBS Hawai'i without having to pay income taxes on the money. Since a gift from your IRA generates neither taxable income nor a tax deduction, you can benefit even if you do not itemize your deductions.

We do encourage you to consult your personal tax, financial or legal professional for advice regarding your specific situation or to learn more about any additional benefits.

For more information about any of these giving opportunities, please contact Christina Kanemoto Sumida, at csumida@pbshawaii.org or by phone at 808.462.5045.
