REST OF YOUR LIFE--lyrics

I don't really know why
No, I don't really know why
Life just takes a different turn
It's a big big blue (I was)
Ready to wear my whites,
Take my stride, smile to flashing lights
I had been waiting for a lifetime, lifetime yeah

Though this wasn't how I planned it
I'll take the good and the bad and
I'll celebrate, I'll celebrate yeah
They say that life can pass you real quick
So try your very best to not blink
Keep the memories that you make

For the rest of your life, mm
The rest of your life, mm
The rest of your life, mm
Keep the memories that you made

Never thought I'd miss the sound of my alarm ringing
Or the sounds of the choir singing
Yeah its funny to say, low-key I miss the days
When we'd be chillin after class
Talking 'bout exams that we forgot that we had, yeah
Wish I didn't wait to long to say hey
Cause maybe then you'd notice me and man
Oh that'd be the day but
I guess you'll never know, I was too shy to let it show
Maybe, down the line you'll remember me in time

Though this wasn't how I planned it
I'll take the good and the bad and
I'll celebrate, I'll celebrate yeah
They say that life can pass you real quick
So try your very best to not blink
Keep the memories that you make

For the rest of your life, mm
The rest of your life, mm
The rest of your life, mm

Keep the memories that you made

Let this be a lesson learned
That every day's a gift that's earned
Though this chapter's come to close
You've got your whole life to go

Though this wasn't how I planned it
I'll take the good and the bad and
I'll celebrate, I'll celebrate yeah
They say that life can pass you real quick
So try your very best to not blink
Keep the memories that you make

For the rest of your life, mm
The rest of your life, mm
The rest of your life, mm
Keep the memories that you made
